

DRUNK FOUR DAYS;
HE'S "BROKE" NOW

Iowa Real Estate Man Went Out On Big Spree On Monday and Ended
It Up In City Lockup.

Starting out with a good-sized roll of bills on Monday, Robert Hoyt, a real estate man from Iowa, ended up a spree of four days yesterday without a cent in his pocket and with this morning arraigned in municipal court for drunkenness. He pleaded guilty and sentence of a fine of $5 and costs or five days in jail was passed by the court. Hoyt came to Janesville from Waukegan, where he said he had gone to take the Keady cure. That institution, however, was about to close, so he did not remain there but came to Janesville. On Monday he visited a local restaurant and left his valise there and asked one of the employees to take charge of a roll of bills which Hoyt displayed. The restaurant employee, however, declined to assume the responsibility and the grip remained in the restaurant for several days, awaiting its owner.

Tom Dougherty, who has a police record for drunkenness came up this morning for the same old charge of intoxication and went to jail for eleven days, the judge passing sentence of five days flat and a fine of $5 and costs or six days additional. Dougherty, according to the police, was captured at a residence on Wall street, which it was thought he was trying to break into. In the court this morning, Dougherty said he had done a few favors for the people living there, and had been told to go there to get something to eat. "I came too late," was his remark concerning the occurrence.

HOLD HOBOS FOR ALLEGED THEFTS

Pair Arrested At Beloit Country Club
Early Today Thought To Have Stolen Boat Here Yesterday.

Through the capture and arrest of two hoboes, who it is said, broke into the Country Club house of Beloit, just north of that city, early this morning, the local police officers think that the pair are responsible for the theft of a rowboat belonging to Paul Wolfgram and may be the ones who broke into the Nott Paper Box factory on North River street, Wednesday night.

Wolfgram reported his loss to the police last night and Chief of Police Appleby telephoned word of the theft to the Beloit officers. The craft, a nine-foot rowboat, painted green, had been chained to a small tree on the bank of the river near the wooden falls in this city. It was fastened with a six foot chain and two padlocks. Yesterday afternoon when he went to the place to use it, he found that the tree had been chopped down and the chain evidently slipped over the stump. There were evidences nearby that someone had camped there and built a fire to cook with.

Sometime after midnight last night two men broke into the Country Club house, but were discovered by men in the place and frightened away. An attempt was made then to capture the pair, but one of the two fought off his would-be captors with a hatchet and the men escaped in a boat out into the river. The pursuing party recaptured their forces and taking a launch, captured the men and telephoned for the Beloit officers. Chief of Police Qualman of Beloit, recognized the boat as the one which Chief Appleby had described and notified the local chief. The pair were arraigned in Beloit municipal court today and one of the men was held for trial on the charge of stealing some chickens. A warrant against the other man was sworn out by Wolfgram and Sheriff Ransom went to Beloit to bring the man here this afternoon. It is said that the alleged thieves are two hoboes, one having been in Chicago and the other from St. Paul. A pair, similar to the two captured, were seen by Mr. Nott about his place of business yesterday morning and the theory is held that they are the ones who robbed the box factory.

LOCAL VETERAN WILL RUN FOR AN OFFICE

Col. E. O. Kimberly Has Name Before
G. A. R. Encampment at Green Bay This Next Week.

E. O. Kimberly of this city has been recommended and will receive the support of the local post of the G. A. R. for the office of junior vice department commander at the district annual encampment to be held at Green Bay next week. Mr. Kimberly's name was offered by the W. H. Sargent Post of this city and as yet he has not learned of any opposition.

He is so well known throughout Grand Army circles as the "Soldier Singer" and has received so many letters of endorsement from members of other Posts that he feels that he shall get the office. He has acquired the title of "Soldier Singer" through his willingness at all times to entertain his comrades of "G" with his charming voice.

The local Post is sending out cards to all of the other Posts in the state, requesting their support in the coming encampment for Mr. Kimberly. In case he should receive the office, which he doubtless will, it would only be a fitting tribute, not alone to him as a veteran of the Civil war, but as a loyal and earnest member of the organization which will gather for their annual encampment at Green Bay next week.

Honest Difference of Opinion.
Judging upon the example of Mr. Kipling, it has been asserted that the man who knocks his pipe ash out behind the parlor couch is usually a genius. But this is a somewhat empty assertion, and, at any rate, it comprises a habit that is in no wise shared by housewives and landladies.

OPENING OF DEPOT
WILL BE BIG EVENT

Janesville Employees Interested In Opening Sunday—Must Know
Ways of Entrance and Exit.

Employees of the Northwestern road here are interested in the opening of the new $28,000,000 passenger station at Chicago on Sunday, June 4th. Every detail has been arranged so that the first day at the new structure will see no balk or hitch in the movement of the trains. All employees of the road running in and out of the new depot will have been instructed in the matters of entrance and exit, and with the interlocking plant in the yards. All who have not become perfectly familiar with the tracks and switches will not be allowed to run into the new depot.

Most of the employees of the road here have already received their instructions in this regard, but all who have not are hurrying to Chicago to become acquainted with every detail. It is reported that some of the men at Cary, Ill., who have not been instructed, have already been laid off.

Conductor J. B. Rolly was in Chicago yesterday to learn the ways and means of ingress and egress; Engineer Lewis went down this morning, also Conductor J. J. Dullin, and Fireman Louis Gostland will take his turn tomorrow. This will be about the last of the employees here to receive instructions.

MOTOR POWER TEAM IN VICTORY OVER YARD NINE

Spectacular Fielding and Fast Base Running Characterized the Game at Yards Yesterday Noon.

Ball-fans at South Janesville were entertained in a manner previously unknown in the history of the elder diamond yesterday noon, when the Motor Power department men showed their prowess over the yard team to the extent of 6 to 0.

The M. P. Ds. didn't have everything their own way, however, and for the first three innings it looked as if "Homingbird" Dixon, in the box for the roundhouse, would end forever his baseball history. Had it not been for the marvelous support of his comrades who pulled down the high ones out of the thin air, the ending would have been dubious for the aggregation of machinists and boiler-makers. Garbutt came to the rescue in the fourth and pitched airtight for the rest of the game.

Chas. Connors, for the Yard nine, was there with classy curves, and allowed only seven hits. But McDermott and Sullivan bunched singles in the fourth and the frightful error of Fielder Griffin allowed three runs, and McDermott, who was a terror with the stick, with a three-bagger in the sixth, cleared the three sacks for the same number of tallies. Garrison for the M. P. Ds. at second, was there on the infield drives but disliked the necessity of moving, preferring to play the waiting game. He did not wait in vain, however, for two P. O.s are on his ticket.

Other members of the nine might come in for mention on various scores as there was no end of real excitement, but a complete record would fill a fair-sized volume.

Air brake instruction car No. 181 arrived at South Janesville yesterday and will be there for four days. Instructions will be given to all engineers, firemen, and switchmen by Air Brake Inspector Devlin.

Engineer Steinman has returned from Kenosha, where he has been for the past few days.

Engineer Cole and Fireman Walters went out on No. 566 yesterday.

Fireman Smith is relieved from duties on the night switch-engine by Fireman Ashby.

Engineer Lewis is laying off and Engineer Yates has taken his place on the six o'clock dispatching job.

An ice train which runs intermittently between Janesville and South Janesville, has been lately instituted. Engineer Smith and Fireman Bier compose the engine crew and Conductor Anderson and Brakenen Look and Zierbel are on the job.

Conductor McCarthy has resumed his labors on the way freight run.

Leo Raymond, third track operator at the depot, has begun a two month leave of absence. N. F. Lindsey is taking his place.

An extra car carrying the Aurora ball team, was attached to 517 at 11:30 this morning, bound for Green Bay.

Switch-tender Oliver Church has returned to work at the belt line switcher.

Conductor J. J. Dullin went to Madison this morning where he will transact business.

BARROW RIDE FOR
BENEDICT MEMBER

Roy McDonald, Recently Married,
Wheeled Up Milwaukee Street
In Wheelbarrow by Lakota
Members Last Night.

Initiation into honorary last evening at the Lakota club was, last evening, conferred on Roy McDonald, a member who recently joined the ranks of the barrow. The affair was pulled off partly in retaliation for what McDonald had done in leaving town quietly to be married. Several members took him in charge on the street and others joined the party. A currawl was fired and the party drove up and down the main streets, cheering the newly-wedded member. Later a wheelbarrow was secured and McDonald was wheeled up the street, those in the currawl cheering loudly. A heavy rope, tied around his waist, made escape impossible. A smoker at the club rooms concluded the evening's program.

AN OLD REMEDY

Beef, Iron and Wine is one of the good old remedies that has outlived a score of patent tonics, reasonable in price, a satisfactory tonic, appetizer and mild stimulant. There is nothing better for that tired, worried, listless feeling or run-down condition of the system after illness of any kind. It tones the whole system, stimulates digestion, gives you appetite, is a good iron tonic for weak, pale children or old people, far more effective than malt extracts or so-called wine of cod liver oil that depend upon their stimulants alone. Beef, Iron and Wine tones and sustains, it assists nature to recuperate, it's a food to the sick and nursing mothers.

Mr. Pfenning, our Graduate Pharmacist and Chemist, prepares our Beef, Iron and Wine. It's always fresh, made from the very best extract of beef, wholesome, properly aged sherry wine and soluble iron.

We don't sell ready-made, hand-made, factory-manufactured Beef, Iron and Wine. We believe and know that medicine should be compounded only by the experienced and scientifically trained.

Try a bottle of our Beef, Iron and Wine as made by Mr. Pfenning. You will find it a most delicious and invigorating tonic. You will be more than satisfied. Get it at the Indian Drug Co., Milwaukee and River Sts. The drug store that makes a specialty of drugs.

REVOLUTIONS IN GENERAL.

Revolutions in general through the Latin republics of Central America are quite the fashion. By dispatches we are told that Nicaragua is to be divided into two republics, that former President Castro is raising funds for a new revolution to regain power; that present President Diaz has declared martial law, and that General Estrada, until recently president, is seeking to discredit his official acts. In Hayti we have reports of bloody battles, and from Mexico come tales of things men to stakes and burning them to death, armed troops seeking to invade the capital and Madero starting for Mexico City as a royal conqueror with an armed guard and special train.

Mexico is really the most critical of all the republics. Mexico is changing the policy of her government by methods which mark a distinct progress over those of a generation ago, when Gen. Diaz rescued the country from disorder by the sword. In the absence of elections affording a genuine test of the popular will, the method of demonstration by revolutionary uprisings is substantially the only one available. That these demonstrations have been handled with conservatism and success by Madero is a tribute both to his intelligence and grasp of the situation and to the education of the people in the means of accomplishing their purposes.

The manner in which Gen. Diaz has yielded to the popular will is also not without its significance, in spite of the evident disappointment which the old soldier feels at ending his career in so unimpressive a manner. Gen. Diaz need not fear the judgment of history upon the benefits which he has conferred upon Mexico, any more than Gen. Grant need have feared as to the place which he held in the affections of the American people because they did not wish to give him a third term in the Presidency. These cases are in some respects analogous. It is evidence of a high power of discrimination among the people that they should not be carried away either by the glamor of military prestige or by violent hatred of a ruler because of changed conditions, but should wisely discriminate between his service to the country under certain conditions and the fact that he had ceased to be of service under other conditions.

Gratifying as has been the progress of events up to this time, the gravest problem perhaps lies before the provisional government and the people of Mexico in choosing their future rulers.

Universal suffrage is written in the Mexican constitution, but it has never been put in practice. Even the present revolution has represented the sentiment of the younger element of the governing race and class against those who have monopolized power for thirty years rather than a direct uprising of the masses.

It is conceivable that an effort to put universal suffrage in full operation would go to the heads of the masses and lead to graver troubles than have yet occurred. The process of education in self-government is a slow one. It is not acquired by the mere rudiments of reading and writing—sometimes not even by the possession of the highest literary culture. Self-restraint and willingness to submit to the will of the majority, legally ascertained, is one of the great factors which has made self-government by universal suffrage possible in America; and, with some qualifications as to the suffrage, in Great Britain.

It has been the fashion among superficial observers to question the fitness of the Latin race for this form of self-restraint; but it is probably only a question of experience, and it remains for Mexico to demonstrate that her people can proceed in orderly course along this road. It is reasonable to expect that the revolutionary leaders who have displayed such surprising power as well as sagacity during the last few months will continue to direct the thinking of their followers and that the opportunities for a Bryan or a Hearst will not dawn upon the Mexican electorate in the immediate future.

TAFT'S ATTITUDE.

That William H. Taft will be the next republican nominee for President is almost a certainty. Opposition to the big man whom Roosevelt selected as his successor, which began during the insurgent movement a year ago, has gradually dwindled down to a mere verbal protest on the part of a few ultra radicals. Taft will be re-nominated. Congressman Cooper, who visited Janesville yesterday, stated that even the Sage of Sagamore Hill predicted Taft's success at the 1912 convention and he felt that the tone expressed in political circles in Washington all foreshadowed it.

Without a doubt there will be some opposition. It is certain that Wisconsin will have an aspirant in the field. Others may also appear, but the general tone of the country is in favor of the President for a second term. Even the Canadian reciprocity measure is going to help him gain the re-nomination when it is thoroughly understood. This is one of the President's pet measures and will pass the senate beyond the question of a doubt, although somewhat amended, perhaps, to meet the ideas of the senators of the upper house.

For the past six months Taft has been strengthening his bulwarks. He has cast aside a lot of dead timber and surrounded himself with new men. As the titular head of the republican party he has sought to enforce the platform pledges of that party and is seeking, continually, to compel congress to live up to the reputation of the republican doctrines.

The recent extra session of congress is a democratic one, the next regular congress will be democratic, and this is an important feature in assuring a republican success in 1912. Meanwhile some of the ultra radicals are being given a taste of their own medicine and they do not like it, and the vote yesterday in the Lorimer matter all goes to show that the reins of government are not yet in the hands of the red-mouthed reformers who shout for self-glory.

ANOTHER CONVENTION.

Janesville has an opportunity of securing another convention for 1912 if the business men so desire. The state Aerie of the Fraternal Order of Eagles might be induced to come to this city next year if properly approached at their coming state gathering at Marshfield. It is a big undertaking and one which requires money to finance properly. The local Aerie talked the matter over last evening and decided to postpone action until it was seen whether the business men wanted them to extend the invitation. Conventions are a good thing for any community. The coming state encampment of the United Spanish War Veterans will bring thousands of visitors to Janesville. The Eagles gathering next year would bring as many, if not more, and these are the things that help a city.

BAND CONCERTS.

With the Lower City band re-organized and composed of first-class musicians, the question of holding the open-air band concerts during the summer months is again being talked of. The band deserves the support of the citizens generally and the men who compose it are working hard to perfect themselves into as perfect a musical organization as possible. It is a matter that should be carefully considered and acted upon at once.

Actual work in improving the civic conditions might be started by some who speculate building a few hundred houses for rental purposes. Houses that are fitted with modern conveniences at a moderate rental. Janesville needs them and the persons living in rented rooms and flats would appreciate the opportunity to secure a comfortable home. It would also help the city in the business world.

So the legislature has decided to do a little investigating of its own as regards the Stephenson election two years ago. Perhaps, before it gets through, the legislature will wish they had not opened up too strongly in this matter. Some of the most ardent shouters for reform may find the skeletons in their own closets jangling in public gaze yet.

Why not try the split log drag on some of the streets leading into the city, just to see if they do not improve under the treatment? As they are now it is a disgrace to the community and something should be done.

The Boy Scout movement is one that should receive the endorsement of every person who is interested in the welfare of the future generation of men. It is a movement in the right direction at the right time.

It is safe to say there is not a small boy that does not know that there is a big circus coming to Janesville in three weeks and none of them that do not know that the Fourth of July is going to be here soon.

Why not clean up the river banks while cleaning up the streets? The view from the bridges of the property along the banks of the Rock is anything but entrancing. Why not clean it up?

It will soon be time for the sweet girl graduates to settle down to the summer campaign of learning what it is to live at home again, and do something really useful for the family.

PRESS COMMENT.

Up to Them.
Madison State Journal: Mayor Gaynor of New York is offering cash for legal evidence that the Sunday bill is being lifted. This looks like putting it up to somebody to make good or quit bothering the mayor.

Think of Hobson.
Monroe Times: Japan is willing to negotiate an arbitration treaty, but will our people be willing to shut off the only possible opportunity open to our army officers for professional advancement?

Most Important.
Milwaukee Sentinel: Looking over the Mexican cabinet we regret to report that no minister for the suppression of revolutions has been appointed. Suppressing revolutions is the most important duty of a Mexican administration.

Should Say He Was.
Rockford Republic: William Jennings Bryan says he can be left out of the calculation as a candidate for the presidency in 1912. The best information is to the effect that he has been.

Very Clear.
Milwaukee Free Press: The supreme court is putting the monopolies out of business. That fact is clear, even to those who read only the newspaper headlines.

Stung.
Racine Times: Champ Clark, Uncle Jim Harmon and a few others will do well to bear in mind the fact that those who harbor Presidential bees are sometimes stung.

Was It Worth It?
Fond du Lac Commonwealth: With one life sacrificed and eight persons seriously injured the first 500-mile automobile race has passed into history and the question naturally arises, "Was it worth the price?"

Another Error.
Oakbrook Northwestern: One of the American naval officers made a bad break at a public dinner at Copenhagen, when he proposed a toast to the German navy. It does seem that our navy officers should be a little more discreet when they get among strangers.

Bring on the Bride.
Beloit News: Shift the scenery, please, removing the background for labor sluggings, supreme court decisions, big trees and all other exciting scenes to make way for the settings for June weddings.

Murder is Murder.
Monroe Journal: Colonel Roosevelt struck a responsive chord in the Outlook, when he said, that "murder is murder" and should be treated as such, whether the murderer may be the millionaire head of a trust or the impetuous representative of a labor union. Strong, useful words, spoken most timely. Murder is murder notwithstanding the guise.

THE POET PHILOSOPHER.
(Copyright, 1909, by George Matthew Adams.)
By WALT MASON.

Oh swatter, hold your hand, I beg, and do not play that humble fly that tickles you with active leg—why should the lovely creature die? The force that gave you life and health designed that fly, so blithe and gay; who gave you powers of life and death? Who said that you might freely slay? Because some scientific insect that flew from place to place, you take a headlong in your fit and would exterminate the race. The gentle and flies have equal rights with men in enjoyment, to pursue, and so have skaters, which, at nights, off chairs as with their loud buzz. I hold that any living thing has this death as good as ours, and let the honey from the flowers. And when I see some husky guy take legal arms and fiercely pounce upon some unsuspecting fly, that does not weigh a half an ounce, I feel that I'd set up chairs, or buy the time piece by the tub, if some like monster came from Mars, and asked him with a twelve foot club. When next you go to swat a fly, imagine that the monster came, some freak a thousand cubits high, and held a club above your frame!

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE.

TRY!
"You never can tell what is in you until you try."

Which truism is by Baroness de Bazar, formerly Mrs. Frank Leslie of New York.

When Frank Leslie, the publisher, died he owed $500,000, which on his deathbed he begged his wife to pay. She did it and made a fortune for herself besides.

Mrs. Leslie did not know much about the publishing business, but she was willing to try.

She says: "I find that women are a shade too conservative. They are too timid to try. However, wherever they have tried hard enough they have done well."

While she was paying off the first $100,000 Mrs. Leslie spent only $30 on herself.

She did what few men are able to do—cut her living expenses to the minimum.

She moved at once to a little French boarding house and had one room four flights up under a skylight, "which I had to get on a chair to open."

And this woman inherited the great publishing house of Leslie!

She went to this place to escape unfavorable comment and stares. In the foreign boarding house she was merely "the woman on the top floor." "Be silent," says Mrs. Leslie, "it was cheaper."

The $30 she expended was for a widow's veil, gloves and needful articles for mourning garb. "Saying," she says, "never an easy process, is one of elimination—doing without things you would like."

Which is the woman of it.

She eliminated everything possible—expense, society, entertainment—and set up in the midst of her big printing office the goddess of work.

Mrs. Leslie is right.

You never can tell what is in you until you try. And converse if you never try you will never know.

"One cannot have omelet without breaking eggs."

Some persons learn the habit in their school days of skipping the hard lessons, a habit that persists through life. They will not try.

Find out what is in you. Try!

Better to start with heart and hand. The roaring tide of life than the unimpaired on its flaming strand Of God's occasions drifting by.

Kerosene a Good Cleaner.
Kerosene in hot soapuds is fine for cleaning paint and also "hard finishes." Use about two tablespoonfuls in a pail of water. Be sure that you keep soap enough in it to cut the oil. It is also good to put a little in water you wash windows with.

The work of the collectors for the Subscription Department to "The Gazette" can be very greatly assisted if the patrons of the paper will have their payments ready at the time the collector calls. Most of our friends have assisted nicely in this connection and their promptness is appreciated. With several hundred calls to make each month, it is no small task and where it is necessary to make several return calls, the work is greatly increased. The collectors make the rounds of the city on the following dates, or near those dates: BUSINESS SECTION:—3—10. FIRST WARD:—1—3. SECOND WARD:—8—12. THIRD WARD:—12—15. FOURTH WARD:—1—8. CONVENTION MATTER WAS NOT DECIDED AT THE MEETING

Whether the Local Aerie of Eagles
Invite State Convention Here Next Year Not Decided Upon.

Whether or not the local Aerie of Eagles invite the state convention of the order to come to Janesville next year, to hold their convention was not decided upon at last evening's session of the Aerie. The matter was left in abeyance until some future session, while a special committee was named to inquire into the sentiment of the businessmen, relative to the matter.
The general opinion of the local order is that the convention could be secured for Janesville, if they expressed a willingness to act as hosts and it is possible that steps will be taken to bring about a formal invitation being extended. Following the business session a large class of initiates were instructed in the work of the order and some three hundred enjoyed the social session, which followed the regular meeting.

MISS HOLT GUEST OF HONOR ON A PICNIC

Employee of J. M. Eastwick & Sons
Give Picnic for Miss Nettie Holt,
Who is Soon to Be Married.

About fifty of the employees of J. M.
Eastwick & Sons, in four launches, participated in a delightful picnic up the river last evening, the occasion being a surprise for Miss Nettie Holt, an employee of the firm, who is to be married to Henry Kellogg of Davenport, Iowa, next month. The affair was arranged and planned by the employees and a most enjoyable time was had by all.
They left the dock at about six o'clock and disembarked at a point just this side of the four mile bridge.
Supper was prepared and served in the cottage belonging to Robert Bear.
After supper campfires were built and following the singing of songs and a general good time, the party returned to the city at about eleven o'clock.

Tuesday of next week. As has always been the custom in past years the lower classes will not be examined until the end of that week or the beginning of the following one. This lapse in which to get out the standings for the graduating class. Following commencement, the school year will close on June 15.

LOT OWNERS ARE NOT TO FILL UP GUTTERS

Street Commissioner Wilkens Calls Attention of Property Owners to Properly Maintaining Practices.

Property owners are requested not to burn or throw refuse in the gutters in the future. Street Commissioner Wilkens this morning spent several hours in cleaning the storm sewer at the corner of Main and Court streets that had become clogged during the storm. He found similar conditions on South Second street in many places even the curb being scorched by the fumes where refuse has been burned. It is an additional expense to the citizens to have it hauled away, as well as contrary to the law.

INTERURBAN POWER HAS BEEN CUT IN ON LOCAL LINES

South Main Street Line of the Janesville Traction Company Being Driven by This Circuit Now.

Cut in of the electric power furnished by the Rockford Interurban company onto South Main street was completed Thursday afternoon and from now on the cars on this line will be driven by this current. This was made necessary owing to the fact that the company is hauling some heavy sand and gravel cars for the filling on the south end of Main street where the new tracks are being laid and the current was needed to handle this additional burden.

LONDON CLUB HONORS
CARNEGIE AS WAR Foe

Mention of President Taft's Name Is Signal for Wild Applause
by Danqueters.

London, June 2.—The National Liberal club last night gave a dinner to Andrew Carnegie in recognition of his peace efforts. Earl Carrington presided. Sir Edward Grey, the British foreign secretary, in testifying Mr. Carnegie, devoted his speech to the peace movement in which he was convinced real progress is being made. Mr. Carnegie's speech was cheered vociferously, especially his one reference to President Taft, the company rising and waving scarves and handkerchiefs.

"When Taft has made up his mind to do things he is stubborn as a mule," declared Mr. Carnegie. "Now, owing to his efforts, victory is within our grasp. Our public spend 70 per cent. of the entire national revenue upon pensions for war and the preparations. You can go on preparing and the more you prepare the more you breed the particular danger, but when our race banishes war we sound its death knell. A glorious task is ours to lead the world."

After dinner, when asked what reply he had to make to the statements of John W. Untch before the congressional committee regarding the formation of the steel trust, Mr. Carnegie said:

"Gates! Gates! Pooch (throwing up both hands) I wouldn't dole my hands with Gates. Whoever pays any attention to anything that Gates says? I don't and I don't think anybody else does. I'm going up to Idaho by automobile Saturday morning. I shan't trouble anything about Gates."

Managua Explosion Fatal to Many,
but President Is Safe.

Managua, Nicaragua, June 2.—The explosion in the Fortress La Loma on Tuesday night, overlooking Managua, Wednesday, killed about 120 persons, mostly soldiers. One hundred and seventeen bodies have been taken from the ruins, including those of a woman and a boy who were selling fruit to the soldiers.

It is officially stated that the blowing up of the fortress was due to a political plot. Many Liberals, supporters of ex-President Estrada, have been placed under arrest.

President Adolfo Diaz, against whom the plot is said to have been directed, his ministers, and others identified with the government escaped injury.

Troops are guarding the palace and public buildings and detachments of cavalry are patrolling the streets. The capital is practically in a state of siege.

DIVORCE LAW IS DEALT BLOW.

Springfield Judge Holds Remarriage
Outside State Valid.

Springfield, Ill., June 2.—Judge Robert B. Shirley of the circuit court handed down an opinion in which he holds that the Illinois marriage and divorce law has no extra territorial effect, and that a marriage ceremony performed in a distant state is valid in the state where the decree for divorce was granted.

The decision was given in the case of Andrew V. Smith against Mary J. Smith, who sought to have a marriage declared void on the ground that the ceremony was performed in a distant state less than a year after the woman was divorced.

The case will be taken to the supreme court to test the constitutionality of the marriage and divorce law.

OHIO BRIDE INQUIRY FUND CUT.

Prosecutor's Appropriation Reduced
$2,500—Nye Is Acquitted.

Columbus, Ohio, June 2.—The Seventy-ninth general assembly of Ohio adjourned sine die 21 hours late, after spending several hours in a bitter contest over the question of appropriating $2,500 to aid Franklin county in the prosecution of legislative bribery.

The amount finally fixed was $5,000, none of which is to go for expenses incurred prior to the time Attorney General Hogan took a hand in the prosecution.

"Not guilty," was the verdict of the jury in the trial of Dr. George H. Nye, state representative from Pike county, who was charged with bribe solicitation.

32 INJURED IN RAIL COLLISION.

Only Eight Out of Forty Passengers Escaped Unhurt.

Syracuse, N. Y., June 2.—Thirty-two persons were injured in a collision between a local passenger train and a construction train on the Syracuse, Lake Shore & Northern railroad at Baldwinsville. All cars of both trains were badly damaged. Only eight of the forty passengers on the local escaped injury.

Fort Scott, Kan., June 2.—Three women were seriously injured when St. Louis and San Francisco passenger train No. 104, known as the Southwestern Limited, was derailed between Lawrence and Pleasanton, Kan.

FARMERS' FREE LIST MAY
IMPERIL RECIPROCITY

Crisis in Senate Fight on Canadian Agreement Is Believed to Be Near at Hand.

Washington, June 2.—When the Democratic farmers' free list bill is offered as an amendment to the bill carrying into effect the Canadian agreement, it is believed that the crisis in the senate fight on reciprocity will be reached.

That such an amendment will be offered for the purpose of embarrassing the Democratic supporters of reciprocity seems certain. It is toward this critical contingency that President Taft just now is devoting his attention. He is holding daily conferences at the White House in an effort to keep Republican and Democratic senators alike in line for the pact.

The president is certain the reciprocity bill will pass the senate by a comfortable majority if it can be brought to a final vote without amendment.

MARY MANNERING AGAIN WEDS.

Noted Actress Becomes Bride of Frederick O. Wadsworth.

New York, June 2.—Mary Manning, whose charm, beauty and histrionic ability have won her an unsurpassed position among American players, ended all speculation regarding her matrimonial intentions by wedding Frederick O. Wadsworth, a Michigan millionaire with whose many heirs has been linked since she secured an interlocutory decree of absolute divorce from James K. Hackett on January 5, 1910.

Mr. Hackett is president of the Michigan Steel Bolt company of Detroit. His wife, who was Miss Luella Peck, divorced him at Kalamazoo, Mich., on July 11 last.

TREATING CAUSES UNSEATING.

Sir Henry Seymour King Ousted
From Parliament by Court.

London, June 2.—Sir Henry Seymour King, who in the last general election was returned to the conservative seat in the house of commons for the central division of Hull, was unseated. The judges found Sir Henry guilty of lavishly treating his constituents at Central Hull.

EGGS IN EVERY LAND

HOW HEN FRUIT IS SERVED BY VARIOUS PEOPLES.

Variety of Recipes Which Offer Pleasing Change From Common Methods of Cooking Eggs—Fried Egg Popular in America.

Russian Eggs.—On delicate slices of toast spread a layer of caviar and place a fresh poached egg on top; pepper, salt and a few drops of lemon juice are added, and a garnish of parsley; serve at once.

Turkish Eggs.—Boil six kidneys and six chicken livers and hearts with an onion and a spleen bag, throwing off the water six times. Make a rich brown sauce, adding a little wine, and add the kidneys; pour on a hot platter and place as many carefully poached eggs over the top as there are guests.

Norwegian Eggs.—Place on a platter large flakes of smoked salmon, scramble six eggs in butter, season and spread over the top of the salmon; serve hot.

Hungarian Eggs.—Arrange hard-boiled eggs and cold boiled potatoes in alternate layers in a pudding dish, with butter, pepper and salt, and pour over the top sour cream enough to just cover the ingredients. Bake a delicate brown.

Spanish Omelet.—Cut three slices of bacon into dice and fry a delicate brown, then add two sliced tomatoes, one onion minced, six sliced mushrooms, pepper and salt. Stir and cook ten minutes. Break six fresh eggs into a bowl, beat lightly with a fork. Put a small lump of butter into the omelet pan, and when hot pour in the eggs and shake gently until set, then turn on the other mixture and fold the omelet and serve quickly.

Irish Eggs.—On delicately broiled slices of bacon poached eggs are placed and covered with a rich cream sauce.

American Eggs.—Needless to say that the best known egg dish of the country is the fried egg served with fried ham, though the best known dishes of other nations find their way to all the menus of the best hotels and restaurants.

Untrustworthy Music.
Music seems to be as well as poetry. One of the most beautiful pieces of waltz music is called the "Blue Danube." Now the Danube is a yellow muddy stream. There is not a single sign of blueness in it from its source in Germany to its mouth at the Black sea.

The Just and the Unjust.
That which is unjust can really profit no one; that which is just can really harm no one.—Henry George.

High Price for Manuscript.
Twenty dollars a line was the price given recently for the original manuscript of Burns' ode to the Duchess of Kingston. The poem consisting of a dozen lines, was sold for $214.

Don't Be Deceived.
Because a woman takes a man's measure and even helps him press his suit, is no reason to believe she will do it after they are married.—Exchange.

A Physician's Answer.
A patient once asked her physician why his mustache was black and his hair was gray. "Why," he replied, "my mustache is twenty years younger than the hair on my head."

Buy A Car That Anyone Can Drive

A child can handle the Brush Runabout. Louis Abernathy, 9 years old, after three lessons, drove it all the way from New York to Oklahoma on his famous trip to meet Roosevelt. Any member of your family can drive the Brush. When your wife drives an automobile she wants a car that does not get out of order. She wants no complicated mechanism to worry her. She wants a motor which she can crank easily. She wants to drive with as little recourse as possible to gear shifts, levers, foot pedals and the necessary complications of other cars. She cannot get these qualities in any big car or in fact, in any but ONE car. The complexity of the big car mechanism is duplicated in every small car except the Brush, which is totally different.

ont—the perfection of an original idea in motor car construction. In the last Munsey tour the Brush proved it could do anything any big car could do except travel at excessive speed. In the hands of thousands of owners it has proven itself able to meet daily demands made upon it without mechanical difficulties of any sort and at a minimum of expense.

The Brush is not only easy to handle, it is a smart looking handy little car that will take you economically and quickly from place to place—free from the necessity of depending on uncertain street cars.

DRILL TEAM WILL HOLD BIG PICNIC

Yea-Do Park up the River to be the Scene of Gay Gathering on Sunday, June 4th.

Under the auspices of the drill team of the local Aerle of Eagles, Yea-Do park will be the scene of a gay crowd on Sunday next when the annual picnic of the order will be held. The drill team was recently organized and given promises to be one of the finest in the state. It will be one of the features of the Fourth of July celebration, having offered their services for drills on the street on the night of the 3rd. The picnic Sunday will include ball games, the famous "Gumbo" dinner and several athletic contests. It is expected that members of the order will be here from Madison, Bollet, Rockford, Watertown and Milwaukee.

"If the local Aerle want the next state convention here, the business men, that is the Industrial and Commercial Club, will support them," said F. E. Lane, secretary of the Industrial and Commercial club today. "I have talked with members of our organization and they are enthusiastic over it and it is safe to say that if the local Aerle want the convention the business men will support them, do all they can to add them in getting the necessary funds for entertainment."

Origin of "Dumper" Glass.

When a glass is as full as it possibly can be of liquor the surface of the liquor is slightly convex and the center lies higher than the brim. In view of this fact, such a glassful is called a bumper, because the liquor bumps up, or protrudes in the middle.

Overbuying Helps The Bargain Basement

There is no merchant in Janesville, Chicago, or elsewhere, who does not find occasionally that he has "bought too much." It is impossible to gauge the demand in advance so accurately that just enough will be purchased, and it is not good business policy to buy so little that the assortments are limited.

With the great output of The Big Store, assortments must be big in order to give satisfaction. Oftentimes styles that were popular in the beginning of the season are not wanted in mid season. Again the demand seems to come in fits and spurts, and no merchant can be on the right side at all times.

With this explanation it will be readily seen why The Big Store is about to open its

The Bargain Basement is the clearing department for everything and anything that can be sold at a bargain. The merchandise will be good merchandise, fully up to our high standards of quality, but it will be offered at great Bargain Prices as soon as it is put in the Bargain Basement. Every woman will serve her own interests best if she visits the Bargain Basement every time she needs anything.

WOMAN'S PAGE

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON.

MY HAND to the man or woman who knows when to admit ignorance. Among a group of us the other day was a young man who, though an exceptionally ambitious and knowledge-loving person, has not had great educational advantages. In the course of the conversation someone used the word "deterrent" in speaking to him.

"Don't you find that rather a deterrent in your work, Mr. W?"

A puzzled look flitted over his face. Evidently it was a new one to him. Nine men out of ten, seeing that the question plainly expected an affirmative answer, would have chimed it and said, "Yes, I do," or some similar bluff.

He, being a one-in-ten man, hesitated but an instant, and then said frankly, "I don't think I know just what 'deterrent' means."

I don't know what the rest thought, but I'm sure for myself, that I never admired him so much as at that moment.

Of course, someone promptly defined "deterrent," so now he does know what it means.

That's the difference between him and the other nine. They would not have known the next time the word came up and would have had to bluff again.

By confessing his ignorance he put an end to it. By hiding theirs, they gave it a new lease of life.

"Learn to say 'I don't know,' my boy," is as needful a command, in its way, as "Learn to say 'no.'"

In the course of conversation things are frequently said, explanations given, references made, information conveyed that we do not fully understand the first time.

On such occasions most of us are apt to pretend to have understood; to say, "Oh, yes, I see," when, like the blind man, we "didn't see at all."

That's the easiest way, of course.

But for the man who wants his mind to grow, it's the wrong way. For not only does he lose the information, but he atrophies his mind muscles by not insisting that they shall grasp everything that's said.

It seems so simple to say, "Pardon me, but I didn't quite understand that," and most people have enough of the dialectic in them not to mind repeating a thing if they can feel they are instructing someone.

It seems almost wrong to me to allow one's self to read and pass by a paragraph in a book without understanding it. It seems to me that it is cowardly and slovenly not to go back and read it until one does understand.

You all know the old Arabian proverb:

"He who knows, and knows that he knows, is wise—follow him.

"He who knows, and knows not that he knows, is asleep—wake him.

"He who knows not, and knows that he knows not, is simple—teach him.

"He who knows not, and knows not that he knows not, is a fool—shun him."

For present purposes I should like to temporarily amend the last two lines of that, to:

"He who knows not, and admits that he knows not, is sensible—teach him.

"He who knows not, and won't admit that he knows not, is a fool—shun him."

MOTHER'S CORNER

BY JULIA CHANDLER.

"All that I am, or ever hope to be, I owe to my Mother."

—Abraham Lincoln.

RECENTLY I had occasion to visit one of our state penitentiaries. It surprised me to find that so many of the convicts had hardly reached the state of manhood. It was while talking to one of these very young men that I learned a story of tremendous appeal. He had an exceptionally bright mind and clear reasoning power.

"I have had a good deal of time to reason it all out here. I have spent most of it in figuring out how it happened. Well, I believe I know," he told me.

"Tell me, please," I begged, for I was interested to know why this man, strong in body and mind, was not about his business in the world.

"I loved my mother," he hesitated.

"Yes," I encouraged, "of course."

"And she is dead now," he offered in excuse for his hesitancy. But after a little he decided to tell me.

"She loved me, and I know that she never meant to do me a wrong. It was only that she was blind to the grave injustice of the thing. I was not a bad boy—a little more mischievous than the ordinary run, perhaps, but I had a tremendous stock of energy—but there was nothing mean in my nature. My mother was a nervous little creature, and she had a habit of cuffing me every time her nerves were on a ragged edge, and telling me THAT I WAS THE WORST BOY SHE EVER SAW."

"I cannot remember a time in all my boyhood THAT SHE SUGGESTED TO ME THAT I WAS A GOOD BOY."

"As I look back on those days, I know now that THE GOOD WAS CHOWDED OUT OF MY HEART BY CONTINUOUS SUGGESTION OF THE BAD. I was told that I was 'the worst boy' until I accepted it as the truth. And after I thoroughly believed it I TOOK A SORT OF BOYISH PRIDE IN LIVING UP TO MY BAD REPUTATION."

"An unman thinketh in his heart, so is he," I quoted.

"Yes; that is true," he said sadly. "I was forced on the wrong path by being made to believe that which was not true."

Oh, the pity of it!

He was silent for so long that I had to ask him to go on.

"There isn't any 'going on,'" he said bitterly. "I ran away from home while I was in the second year at high school, drifted West, got into a drunken brawl and shot a man."

"It killed my mother," he ended with a sob.

Then, suddenly, his face hardened.

"But I would have been glad to have died in her place. What is the death of the body to the warping of the soul?" he demanded. "She robbed me of my faith in myself. I was at the mercy of her almost hourly suggestion to my brain that I was bad, bad, bad—the worst boy she ever saw!" The suggestion worked in my mind until it brought forth fruit worthy of the thought. She stole my self-respect. I owed the gaining of a bad reputation to my mother! For the neighbors were glad to accept my mother's word for it that I was 'the worst boy she ever saw,' and to spread it like wildfire."

"For if my mother says so, it must be true," they told each other.

"My joyous faith in the world changed to sullen defiance."

"Oh, don't you see that I could have absorbed the thought that I was the best boy in the world with equal avidity? Had she told me that I was too good, too brave, and too loyal a boy to give her pain it would have been that way? Don't you see that a mother's suggestions reveal the path day after day a little life will follow? Can't you see that whether the path will be good or bad lies largely with her?"

Yes! I can see.

There is a remarkable one. He was a sailor's son, and took to the sea like his father, but when only 29 years of age he became interested in the Italian national movement, and this, the cause of freedom, became the passion of his life. His first blow for the cause was at Genoa in 1831, but the effort was a failure, and he had to flee to France. From there he sailed for South America and joined the forces fighting the dictator Manuel Rosas. In 1838 he heard of the rising in northern Italy against Austria, and hastened home. He commanded a volunteer corps through the whole Scandinavian campaign. He helped defend Rome against the French. In a combat with the Austrians he died at Venice. His wife died from exposure while with him, and he came to America and became a candle maker in Staten Island. He returned to his native land and engaged in a number of battles under the standard of Victor Emmanuel, which brought about the conditions he gave the best days of his life in fighting for.

Heart and Home Talks

Practical Housekeeping.

Little Economies in the Kitchen.

THE woman who has a small family finds she has so many little odds and ends left over. If she wants a little onion, she has part of an onion left. If she wants a slice or two of lemon, the rest of the lemon is on her hands. If she buys a head of salad, the family must eat salad until they are tired of it. And so it goes, through many of the things she wants for her table.

One woman has solved this problem economically by discovering how to keep these little remainders satisfactorily. A half onion, a half lemon, a cut tomato—all these things partially used, she places cut side down in a cup or saucer, covers with a small dish, and puts in her refrigerator. A lemon or onion will keep a week, a tomato several days. The receptacle in which she puts the lemon, she first immerses in water. The salad, she separates, washes, shakes dry, and places in a paper bag in her refrigerator. This too, will keep a week, and come out as crisp and fresh at the end of the week as at the beginning. Parsley, she treats in the same way. The top of the paper bag must be tightly twisted. Putting these things in paper bags also keeps the refrigerator free of all litter, and thus it does not have to be cleaned so often.

Orange shells—the half of an orange skin intact—can be wrapped in wax paper and kept in a cold place for quite a long while. These shells are very dainty to serve fruit desserts in, that is, fruit salads composed of orange, banana, pineapple, and so forth. And the family relish a dish more, if served occasionally in a new way. Dainty serving has a lot to do with the relish with which a thing is eaten. And this relish plays an important part in digestion. So daintiness and novelty have other than aesthetic value.

It is a saving in many ways to keep all the groceries that come in pasteboard boxes in glass jars with screw tops. For one thing, it saves time. One can instantly see what is wanted. Then they do not get dusty, as they do if kept in the opened box. For in opening, the top is usually partly torn off and so the foodstuff, whatever it may be, is only partly covered. And if all such things are kept in covered glass jars, there is no attraction for mice, ants, roaches, or the other small fry that are apt to infest cupboards, if food is obtainable there. This, too, is a particularly good way to keep pulverized sugar, for if tightly covered, it will not get hard and need rolling.

If the paper that comes around raisins is moistened before it is taken off, the process of removing it is much simplified and the raisins are not so apt to stick to it and some be wasted.

The quickest way to wash dried fruit such as apricots, peaches, and similar kinds, is to scrub each piece of the fruit with a little vegetable scrub brush. It is sure to be clean and doesn't have to be washed through several waters, as many housewives feel is necessary when the fruit is washed with the fingers.

The leaves of celery make a very appetizing green, if cooked like spinach and such greens.

The water that rice has been boiled in is excellent for starching fine shirtwaists, fine table linen, or lace curtains. It gives just the desirable stiffness. It is a good basis, too, for cream soups, for it has considerable starch in it. Many throw it away, but this is a waste.

Do not throw away the rind of bacon. If cooked with beans, no butter is needed in their seasoning.

SPRING DISHES.

Rhubarb is one of the first of our wholesome fruits. There are many ways of serving it made from the sauce or in pies. A pudding which is worth trying is:

Rhubarb Pudding.—Take three cups of chopped rhubarb, mix well with a cup of sugar. In a buttered baking dish make alternate layers of buttered bread crumbs and rhubarb, using three cups of crumbs and a third of a cup of melted butter. Bake one hour and serve with a hard sauce.

For a hard sauce, cream a third of a cup of butter, add a cup of powdered sugar and the white of an egg beaten stiff. Flavor and serve.

Rhubarb Pie.—Take two cups of chopped rhubarb, a cup of sugar, a tablespoonful of butter and flour and two well beaten eggs, reserving the whites for the top. Bake in one crust, and cover with a meringue, using the whites and three tablespoonfuls of powdered sugar.

Mushrooms.—Do not fail to watch for the first mushrooms. There are so many delicate dishes to prepare from mushrooms. This delicate vegetable goes to waste in many of our gardens. Get a reliable teacher and learn a few of the common varieties and enjoy them all through the summer.

A very few will be sufficient to flavor a sauce for beefsteak, or if one is fortunate enough to find a pound, they will serve in the place of meat.

Yellow dock, when it first comes up in the spring, makes a good green to cook with dandelions.

CURIOUS BITS OF HISTORY

By A. W. Macy.

A STRENUOUS LOVER.

When William of Normandy was a youth of nineteen he fell violently in love with his cousin Matilda, daughter of the Duke of Flanders. The young lady, however, did not reciprocate his affection with equal ardor, though she seems to have entertained a kindly feeling for him. She kept him waiting for seven long years, and would not give him a final answer. The suspense was very trying to one of William's impetuous temperament, and he finally decided to bring matters to a crisis. Meeting her in the street one day, in company with some of her friends, he seized her and threw her in the mud, with disastrous results to both her dignity and her fine clothes. So humiliated was she, so the story goes, that she consented to become his wife without further delay.

Healthful, Appetizing BREAD From Matchless Flour

A substantial foundation upon which to build a good, healthful body and a vigorous mind is in using discretion as to the bread your family consumes. Bread is the main article of food and for that reason should be of the best quality. To get that best quality all that is necessary is to insist upon your grocer sending you "Christian's" Matchless Flour. If he hasn't it he can get it for you on short notice.

Strength

By Byron Williams

The song of the stream does not halt in the shade. Nor turn on its bed where the shadows are laid. O'er rocks and o'er boulders it hastens along To lighten the cares of the world with its song!

When shadows are laid o'er the pathway you tread, And thorns in your crown prick the flesh of your head, The song of your heart, like the song of the stream, Should flow on to ripples where glad waters gleam.

In shade and in sunlight our journey is laid, Of sorrow and gladness our current is made. No man is so great, or so good, or so true, But sometime or other his nectar is rue!

But only the one who is strong in his soul, Can gather the wisdom of life in the flow, Can know that the grace of a joy is a goal, That comfort in safety is born of a soul!

Ah, he who would triumph should sing all the way, Should sing in the darkness and sing in the day, Should sing in the shadow as well as the light— Sing on, like the river, through all of the night!

Stuffed Beefsteak.

Select a two and a half inch thick round steak. With a very sharp pointed knife make a deep cut at one side working the point of the knife back and forth until a good sized pocket is formed. Fill this with seasoned oysters or a bread or cereal stuffing made savory with herbs, then lightly pin the edges together. Arrange on some thin slices of fat salt pork in a dripping pan and cover with more slices. Pour round it a cupful each of good rich stock and strained tomato. Cover closely and braise in a moderate oven for two hours. Thicken the gravy remaining in the pan.

Banana Whip. When a change is wanted for dessert, try banana whip. Peel the banana and scrape off the coarse threads and press the pulp through a sieve. Add sugar and lemon juice to taste and cook over the fire, stirring constantly until the mixture boils, remove from the fire and chill. Beat some cream until it is firm. Fold the banana and cream together and chop some pistachio nuts fine and sprinkle over the mixture after it is put in glasses.

Tomato Sauce. Stew small can of tomatoes half an hour with two cloves, a sprig of parsley, pepper and salt; press this through a sieve; put a little butter in a sauce pan over the fire, when it bubbles add a heaping teaspoon of flour; mix and cook it well, and add the tomato pulp, stirring until it is smooth and consistent. One or two slices of onion added at first is a decided improvement.

Thursday, June 22nd, 3 p. m., Dedication of the new Auditorium-Gymnasium had been planned but owing to the fact that funds have not yet been secured to pay for the new building the dedication will be postponed unless sufficient pledges are received before that time. At that hour a Bazaar will be held in the gymnasium and the proceeds will be given to former students and others. This will be one of the best events of the week. It will be followed by a business meeting of the Alumni Association.

Thursday, June 22nd, 8 to 11 p. m., President's Reception, at the President's home.

Commencement will be of very unusual interest this year because of the new Auditorium-Gymnasium. This beautiful structure is large enough to seat the largest audience. It has been one of the greatest needs of the College. Plans were drawn some years ago and efforts to finance the project have been pushed persistently and systematically by Mr. W. H. Hughes, financial agent. The fund is not yet complete. Friends of the College everywhere are being urged to bring the amount to a point where Andrew Carnegie's $25,000 pledge can be secured.

The Shakespearean play by students will be exceptionally pleasing this year because it will be presented in the new Auditorium which affords ample room for staging and for seating the immense audience. The new scenery will add greatly to the effectiveness of the stage settings.

The annual concert Wednesday evening will be one of the leading events. Miss Cranford has trained a chorus of about forty voices supported by a strong orchestra in charge of Mrs. M. H. Place.

COUNTY MEDICAL MEN HAD ANNUAL BANQUET

Annual Banquet of Rock County Medical Society Held at Myers Hotel Last Evening.

About sixty of the Rock county physicians and their ladies gathered at the Myers hotel last evening upon the occasion of the annual banquet of the Rock County Medical Society. Doctors from Edgerton, Evansville and Beloit were present, as well as a good representation of local medical men.

Following the splendid banquet, music was given at address by Dr. Frank G. Lydston of Chicago, occupied the rest of the evening. The program was opened by a short address by Dr. George W. Elfield, president of the society, who presided over the meeting, and who told of the purpose of the gathering and welcomed the ladies to the affair.

Following the speech of Dr. Elfield, music and an address by Dr. G. Frank very pleasing. "Lushon, three songs, with Mrs. W. T. Shover as her accompanist. The selections were "The Water Lily," "Recompense" and "Calm of the Night." The speaker of the evening, Dr. Lydston of Chicago, was then introduced by Dr. Elfield.

Dr. Lydston chose for his subject, "Anything You Like, But Don't Do Serious." He is a very fluent and clever speaker and has made quite a reputation for himself in this line. Many stories about the medical profession, clever character stories and witty remarks were in abundance and the listeners were entertained for an hour by his pleasing address. In the course of the address, he paid a very nice tribute to the "country doctor," stating that they were in reality the best and most of the medical profession.

He said that although physicians were supposed to wear a mask of dignity, the wives could see through those masks and so he could talk freely to his present audience.

Following this talk, Mrs. Park rendered several more vocal selections, "Happy Days," "Come Kiss Your Baby" and "My Little Love." These were thoroughly enjoyed by the audience and were greeted by hearty applause. After a few stories told by Dr. Elfield, the doctors and their ladies departed.

TO ADDRESS MEETING OF STATE DOCTORS

Dr. Frank Van Kirk Will Read Paper Before State Medical Society at Waukesha Next Wednesday.

Dr. Frank W. Van Kirk leaves Monday for Waukesha, where he is to read a paper before the convention of the State Medical Society of Wisconsin, which will be held in that city from Tuesday until Thursday. Everything points to a record-breaking success for this annual affair and it is expected that over 500 doctors from all over the state will be there.

The paper, which is to be read by Dr. Van Kirk, is on the program for Wednesday afternoon, and he has for his subject, "Treatment of 'Pneumonia Infection.'" The officers and those in charge of the convention have arranged for some of the best known authorities in the country to be present, besides those from this state, and among those of national reputation who will deliver addresses are Richard C. Cabot and Joel E. Goldthwaite of Boston. Besides the business sessions there will be many social features to the three days' gathering and everything is being planned for to afford the doctors entertainment while in the city.

The headquarters for the visiting physicians will be the famous Revere hotel, which is said to be the most costly and complete hotel of its kind in the country.

Mrs. Farnsworth and Munn have expressed their intention of founding the sessions of the society next week and it is possible that others of this city may be there.

TOWN LINE.

Town Line Beloit and Rock, June 2.—Pleasants are the order of the day in this locality. Miss Prussie and Miss McCarthy's schools held a joint picnic May 26 in the James Grove. A large crowd was present and all enjoyed a good time. Saturday Miss Hildgiman's school held a picnic in the grove at the west end of the town line bridge on the McCrea farm.

David Thorne's school No. 2, La Prairie and Turtle, held its closing day and Memorial day exercises at the school house Wednesday afternoon. Besides the program given by the pupils, which was well rendered, Dr. Dan Halmall of Shopshire, related some of his army experiences which were very interesting to all. Rev. J. B. McGovern of Shopshire followed with a brief but forcible talk, addressed mainly to the children. At the close of the exercises an elegant supper was served on the lawn to 80 people.

Co. F, Beloit Guards, went into camp in McCrea's woods Saturday evening, remaining there until the rain began Sunday afternoon.

Bacteria Carried by Flies.

In some cases individual flies carry as high as 100,000 bacteria on their legs and in their mouthparts. The correspondence between the increase of flies and the increase of death tells its own story.

Life's Sorrows.

Rob (to Bessie)—It seems rather strange, Bessie, that when I didn't want to kiss you you didn't mind, but now that you are old enough to make me want to, you won't let me.—Life.

Economy in Opinions.

Opinions are to the mind what furniture is to the house. It isn't economy to have more than you know what to do with.

An Article of Merit.

We know that there are scores of hair tonics on the market that possess little if any intrinsic merit. This fact led the directors of the American Drug and Press Association to search far and wide and experiment thoroughly before finally adopting Meritol Hair Tonic for its association stores throughout the country. The result is a preparation guaranteed without an equal for the hair. It is a germ destroyer, unobscure, and purifying in its action. It opens the pores of the scalp, keeps it pure and healthy, kills the germs and microbes, and enables nature to restore natural color of the hair by enabling it to draw its own coloring matter from the pigment glands of the scalp. A trial will convince you that there is no preparation for the hair that compares with Meritol Hair Tonic. Sold in Janesville only by the Reliable Drug Co., association representatives.

VAUDEVILLE OPENS AT MYERS THEATRE

Summer Lessees of Myers Theatre Opened Their Run Last Night With Good Series of Sketches.

Last evening was the opening of the summer vaudeville at the Myers theatre. A good sized audience greeted the showing of the first bill, which consisted of five very pleasing acts. Lake's four-piece orchestra opened the entertainment of the evening with selections from "Madame Sherry." This orchestra will be a permanent fixture during the summer with the new vaudeville venture.

Two films of the best in the motion picture line followed, after which, the headliner, a comedy sketch entitled "The Country Store," with Low Harkin and Zola Miller as the characters, pleased the audience. The act was very good and met with an enthusiastic reception. Another act, equally as good, was Tendorson, who entertained the audience with an exhibition of strength and contortions. His work on the rings was also very good. The third of the series of sketches was a musical act by the Reeves, which was classy and up-to-date.

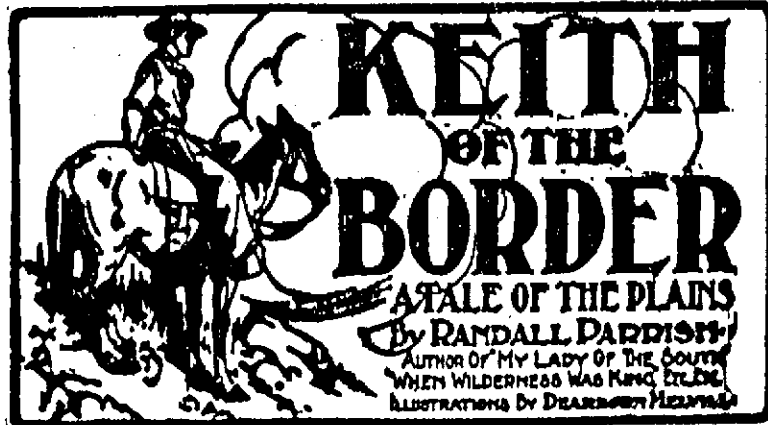

SEVERED TOES STITCHED ON.

Remarkable Surgical Operation on Boy Expected to Be Successful.

Boston, June 2.—Two toes on the left foot of four-year-old Dennis Shea, Jr., of Hyde Park are attached to the little chap's foot only by sutures of golden thread. The little toe is gone, but the others will probably be saved to him by a remarkable experiment in surgery performed by Dr. David E. Hannon of the Lincoln Street hospital. The boy was injured by a street car "With every step of advance the broadening silence seemed more profound, more deathlike. He got to marking the sand ridges, the slight variations giving play to the brain. Way off to the left was the mirage of a lake, apparently so real that he had to battle with himself to keep from turning aside. He dropped forward in the saddle, his head hanging low, so blinded by the incessant sun glare he could no longer bear the glitter of vast, horrible ocean of sand. It was noon now—noon, and he had been riding steadily seven hours. The thought brought his blurred eyes again to the horizon. Where could he be, the man he sought in the heart of this solitude? Surely he should be here by now, if he had left the water-hole at dawn. Could he have gone the longer route, south to the Fork? The possibility of such a thing seemed through him like a hot iron, driving the dullness from his brain, the lethargy from his limbs. God! not that could never play such a nasty trick as that! The man must have been delayed; and had failed to leave camp early—somewhere ahead, yonder where the blue haze marked the union of sand and sky, he was surely coming, riding half dead, and drooping in the saddle.

Again Keith rose in his stirrups, rubbing the mist out of his eyes that he might see clearer, and stared ahead. What was that away out yonder? A shadow? A spot dancing before his tortured vision? Or a moving, living something which he actually saw? He could not tell, he could not be sure, yet he straightened up expectantly, shading his eyes, and never losing sight of the object. It moved, grew larger, darker, more real—yet how it crawled, crawled, crawled toward him. It seemed as if the vague, shapeless thing would never take form, never stand out revealed against the sky so he could determine the truth. He had forgotten all else—the silent desert, the blazing sun, the burning wind—all his soul concentrated on that speck yonder. Suddenly it disappeared—a wisp in the sand probably—and when it rose into view again, he uttered a cry of joy—it was a horse and rider!

Little by little they drew nearer one another, two black specks in that vast ocean of sand, the only moving, living things under the barren circle of the sky. Keith was ready now, his eyes bright, the cocked revolver gripped hard in his hand. The space between them narrowed, and Hawley saw him, caught a glimpse of the face under the broad hat brim, the burning eyes surveying him. With an outburst he stopped his horse, dragging at his gun, surprised, dazed, yet instantly understanding. Keith also halted, and across the intervening desert the eyes of the two men met in grim defiance. The latter wet his dry lips, and spoke shortly:

"I reckon you know what this means, Hawley, and why I am here. We're Southerners both of us, and we settle our own personal affairs. You've got to fight me now, man to man."

The gambler glanced about him, and down at his horse. If he thought of flight it was useless. His lip curled with contempt.

"Damn your talking, Keith," he returned savagely. "Let's have it over with," and spurred his horse. The gun of the other came up.

"Wait!" and Hawley paused, dragging at his rein. "One of us most likely is going to die here; perhaps both. But if either survives he'll need a horse to get out of this alive. Dismount; I'll do the same; step away so the horses are out of range, and then we'll fight it out—is that square?"

Without a word, his eyes gleaming with cunning hatred, the gambler swung down from his saddle onto the sand, his horse interposed between him and the other. Keith did the same, his eyes peering across the back of his animal.

"Now," he said steadily, "when I point three times your horse aside, batted, gazing intently forward. He was not mistaken—they were horses. Knowing instantly what it meant—those riderless animals drifting demented in the heart of the desert—his throat dry with fear, the scout wheeled, and spurred back to his party, quickly resolving on a course of action. Hawley and Keith had met; both had fallen, either dead or wounded. A moment's delay now might cost a life; he would need Fairbairn, but he must keep the girl back, if possible. But could he? She straightened up in the saddle as he came spurring toward them; her eyes wide open, one hand clutching at her throat.

"Doo!" he called as soon as he was near enough, his horse circling. "Hear is something showin' out yonder I'd like ter take a look at, an' I reckon you better go 'long. The nigger kin come up ahead yers with Miss Walte."

She struck her horse, and he plunged forward, bringing her face to face with Bristol.

"What is it? Tell me, what is it?"

"Nothin' but a loose horse, Miss."

"A horse? Here on the desert? Looking about, her eyes dark with horror. 'But how could that be? Could it be Captain Keith?'

Bristol cast an appealing glance at Fairbairn, mopping his face vigorously, not knowing what to say, and the other attempted to turn the tide.

"Not likely—not likely at all—no reason why it should be—probably just a stray horse—your stay back here, Miss Hope—then and I will find out, and let you know."

(To Be Continued.)

A Break in Heredity.

"Mother," said little Willie, who had been whipped for storytelling, "were you always good when you were a little girl?"

"Yes, always," answered his mother. "And didn't you ever tell stories?"

"No, never."

"Did father ever tell them, then?" he asked, after a pause.

"Certainly not," she replied. "Nor granddaddy?"

"No."

"Nor granddaddy?"

"No, of course not."

Willie's brow contracted for a moment; then he gave a sigh.

"Well, what I can't make out," he observed pensively, "is where I got it from!"

Our American Rules.

With a grandiloquent wave of the hand the guide exclaimed:

"Ah, gentlemen, there are historic ruins! You have nothing like them in America."

"No," sniffed the American contemptuously, "but our girls are rapidly annexing the ruins of the guys whose ancestors built them."—Judge.

(13.) What takes place in a faithful Christian, which answers to the growth and perfume of a flower, or the growth and expansion of a tree?

(14.) If the life of a man is not as sweet perfume, and if he is not as the spreading branches of a great tree on a hot day to the weary traveler, what if any reason is there to believe that he is a Christian?

(15.) Why is it either right or wrong to believe that a Christian must grow in grace or backslide?

(16.) Verse 8—And is it, under our present conditions, to worship an idol?

(17.) What are the chief idols which people now worship?

(18.) Is there any danger, and if so what, of practical idolatry in connection with our church services?

(19.) Verse 9—May any man understand the mind of God from the Bible, who is not personally taught of God? Why?

(20.) What is it which makes it certain that a child of God will be led into all truth? (This is one of the questions which may be answered in writing by members of the club.)

Labor.

If it were not for labor men could neither eat so much nor rest so pleasantly nor sleep so soundly nor be so healthful nor so useful, so strong nor so patient, so noble or so untamed. —Jeremy Taylor.

Abstain From Sin.

Try not only to abstain from sin, but, by God's grace, to gain the opposite grace. If thou wouldst not slip back into sin, stretch forward to Christ and his holiness. It is a dull, dreary, tedious way just to avoid sin.—Exchange.
